Training Seminar:
April 27, 2009

A Nursing Focus: CEU

- Nursing CEU Application Process
- MUI Roles and Responsibilities

Presented by dedicated
MRDD specialists

Sponsored by: The Healthcare
Advisory Committee

Register Early - Limited Capacity

The Healthcare Advisory Committee (HAC) was organized in May of 1992. The committee is currently comprised of volunteer RN's and LPN's from various County Boards, Providers, and COG agencies. The HAC works in conjunction with people with the ODMRDD to provide support and education for the nurses and direct service staff working with individuals with MRDD.

The mission of the HAC is to provide support and education for individuals with intellectual, mental or developmental disabilities and the nurses that serve them.

Continuing Education Credits

Six and a half (6.5) Nursing Continuing Education Units are pending for Nursing. For further information call (330)717-5322.

This training will provide instruction on the rules concerning Major Unusual Incidents (MUI) and the way nurses assist in the process.

A short overview of the process to submit materials for continuing education units will also be presented.

Upon successful completion of this seminar, the participant will be able:

- Describe the forms needed to apply for nursing continuing education.
- Discuss how to develop appropriate objectives for nursing continuing education programs.
- Describe the role of an ODMRDD Certified MUI Investigation Agent
- List two reasons nurses are always to be reporters of MUI
- Verbalize what type of medical issues can be included in an Individual Service Plan to prevent repeated MUI investigations
- Identify the nurse's role in the development of the MUI prevention plan.
